Screaming Sports was a Georgia fantasy sports company, closed in 2008

Propworx went bankrupt in 2012, then established as a new company in 2015, housed rent-free at Industry Studios

Axanar Productions was incorporated first in Nevada in 2012, then California in 2015 the same week as Propworx

Use of the name Ares Digital for Axanar's perk fulfillment system is disputed by former chief technologist Terry McIntosh, who claims ownership of the trademark

Axanar never formally established Ares Studios and Valkyrie Studios in California

Valkyrie Studios LLC is a Georgia company registered to do business in California. It was created the same day Alec Peters announced the "investor buyout." Its true ownership is unknown

Industry Studios LLC is a Georgia company. It is not registered to do business in California under that name. Its true ownership is unknown

Peters' friend, attorney Sheldon Friedman, is the Georgia-registered agent for Screaming Sports, Valkyrie (also in Calif.) and Industry LLCs

Axanar's investor buyout, announced in March 2016, may have never happened
